Seven Years of Supporting the Midwest 2012-2019

The Midwest Comprehensive Center (MWCC) at the American Institutes for Research, funded through a U.S. Department of Education grant from October 2012 to September 2019, provides technical assistance for the state education agencies (SEAs) of Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, and Wisconsin. MWCC services focus on building capacity and providing support for SEAs, districts, and schools to improve student outcomes.

Over the 7 years of the grant, MWCC worked on:

intensive projects

in 4 states

41

projects in Minnesota

36

projects
in Illinois

27

projects in Wisconsin

21

projects
in Iowa

MWCC produced blogs and success stories highlighting our work:

-  Identifying and Applying Evidence-Based Practices: Training for State Education Staff
-  Supporting College and Career Readiness in Minnesota
-  Scaffolding Innovation: Supports for Competency-Based Education

Projects addressed a variety of high-priority topics:

-  Teacher and leader effectiveness
-  Improving low-performing schools
-  College and career readiness
-  Data-based decision making
-  Standards and assessments

MWCC developed more than 50 resources for SEAs.

MWCC's SEA clients think highly of the work<sup>1</sup>:

On average, 97% reported MWCC technical assistance content to be of high quality.

“ The quality of information and assistance that MWCC provided was top notch. The ability to pull in a different, larger perspective to help our work move forward was invaluable. ”

On average, 97% reported MWCC technical assistance delivery to be of high quality.

“ [The MWCC staff member] has done an amazing job of connecting people across projects within the TA [technical assistance] so as not to create silos of work. ”

On average, 96% reported MWCC technical assistance to be of high relevance.

“ MWCC [technical assistance] providers were immediately responsive to our every need, and, better yet, anticipated needs we had not even recognized we would have. [They] then provided strategic assistance to assist us in overcoming challenges and barriers. ”

On average, 95% reported MWCC technical assistance to be of high utility.

“ MWCC has been a vital partner in the progress of the [SEA] initiative. Their access to experts and their knowledge and skill sets have contributed significantly. We would not be where we are with this project without their assistance. ”

On average, 93% reported the application of information and resources in their work.

“ We have used resources from the MWCC to help us create a draft definition of what it means to be college- and career-ready upon graduation from high school. This draft is now being vetted by multiple groups within our state. The resources included definitions from other states, current research, and best thinking about CCR [college and career readiness] [as well as] connections to other states working on this. ”
